The Converted Voice of "Masayuki Sakai" Social Media Operation Guidelines
For the purposes of these guidelines, "social media" refers to publicly and privately operated community services on the internet where individuals and organizations within the community exchange various information in a reciprocal and multi-purpose manner. Currently, platforms such as X (Twitter), Facebook, LINE, Instagram, TikTok, etc. are included (including online bulletin boards).

Prohibited Actions

- Posting photos or personal information without the consent of the individual or relevant parties.
- Posting photos of art sets.
- Unauthorized reproduction of drama scripts.
- Posting insider information or any information known only to internal stakeholders (such as names of organizations or superiors).
- Posting promotional information about Fuji TV programs or other shows before it has been officially released.
- Posting or linking information that defames any individual or organization.
- Posting or linking content that promotes, encourages, or condones illegal activities.
- Posting clearly copyright-infringing videos or linking to such videos.
- Quoting another's work beyond brief excerpts.
- Posting promotional posters.

Awareness and Responsibility in Information Dissemination on Social Media

Please be aware that social media is accessible to an undefined number of users with diverse backgrounds and circumstances, and that once information is shared, it cannot be completely deleted. Exercise caution when disseminating information on social media.

Be mindful that the information shared by each individual can have a significant impact on the world and take care to avoid misunderstandings.

Anonymity is not guaranteed. Conversations among friends can quickly spread, and past posts can lead to identification of individuals.

Avoid making statements that could harm the company's interests! Refrain from posting content that is illegal or includes extreme defamation or slander. If you find a specific topic upsetting or angering, hold off on posting about it until you can think about it calmly. Reacting based on temporary emotions can be very dangerous. Share only information that you would be comfortable sharing in a public setting (with current or future colleagues). If you inadvertently disseminate incorrect information, acknowledge it and promptly make a correction. It is wise to clearly state that a correction has been made.
